YMCA Steps Collaboration

NACDD is expanding its partnership with the YMCA's Activate America initiative by engaging community stakeholders in nearly 50 communities to develop evidence-based strategies that reduce barriers and increase support for healthy living. These activities focus on bridging the gap between evidence-based public health science and local community efforts to prevent chronic disease. The partnership will also reach out to work more closely with Native American tribes whose efforts to promote health include work with public health and Steps partners. <http://www.chronicdisease.org/i4a/pages/index.cfm?pageid=3445>

Common Ground Initiative

NACDD is partnering with the the Public Health Informatics Institute and CDC to provides technical assistance on the Common Ground Initiative. The goal of Common Ground is to support collaboration among state and local public health agencies in two areas: (1) Analysis and redesign of public health business processes. (2) Defining collaboratively a set of information system requirements for technology to strengthen public health agencies. CommonGround facilitates the exchange of ideas and best practices in the areas of public health preparedness and chronic disease prevention and control. <http://www.commongroundprogram.org/index.html>

Women's Health, Diabetes and Physical Activity

The Women, Diabetes and Physical Activity Task Group developed resource products that focus on women, diabetes, and physical activity across the lifespan. These products have been developed to increase the knowledge of public health practitioners and other professionals working with women. <http://www.chronicdisease.org/i4a/pages/Index.cfm?pageID=3405>

Using PRAMS for Chronic Disease Prevention

NACDD's Women's Health Council has partnered with CDC's Division of Reproductive Health (DRH), and the Association of Maternal Child Health Programs (AMCHP) to educate chronic disease program staff on using PRAMS data to "link" chronic disease and health promotion programs with maternal child health (MCH). <http://www.chronicdisease.org/i4a/pages/Index.cfm?pageID=3331>

Women's Health Council Web Resource Guide—Depression as a Co-Morbidity of Diabetes

This web resource guide provides information, insights, and tools to help state health department personnel initiate program activities designed to: increase public and professional awareness about this co-morbidity; foster the importance of early detection and diagnosis, and stimulate patient visits to appropriate sources of counseling and care. The guide includes sections on understanding depression and diabetes, references and literature, evidence-based program activities, and establishing evaluation measures. <http://www.chronicdisease.org/i4a/pages/Index.cfm?pageID=333>

The Coordinated School Health Program Collaborative

The Coordinated School Health Program Collaborative (the Collaborative) is a partnership between NACDD, CDC Division of Adolescent and School Health (DASH), the Society of State Directors of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, and the Directors of Health Promotion and Education. The purpose of the Collaborative is to address chronic disease risk reduction and health promotion in the school-aged population, with the school setting and the school community as the focus for chronic disease education, intervention, and management strategies; and health promotion activities. <http://www.chronicdisease.org/i4a/pages/Index.cfm?pageID=3415>
